FAQ

- Do you need to use your company email when registering?
 - No, you can use whatever email address fits you!
- What happens if I already have a Boozt account?
 - You can use the code you receive at checkout either with your current account or a new one. It is not linked to your email address or to a specific account with us.
- If I have tried it out a for couple of months and decide that the exclusive discounts are not for me, how do I cancel it?
 - At the bottom of each email there is a “Unsubscribe button”. Press this and you will not receive anything more from us.(This does not affect regular marketing emails)
